"Sustainable Strategies for the Community Focused Library"

In a world where eBooks are outselling their print cousins, encyclopedias live "in the cloud" instead of in bound volumes, and blue screens have replaced Yellow Pages, some people seem to think that libraries are moving from invaluable to retro to quaint to obsolete. Library consultants Joan Frye Williams and George Needham don't see it that way. In this evening's session, George and Joan will present strategic opportunities for libraries that build on our strengths while providing library communities with cost-effective, indispensable—and therefore sustainable—services. Come prepared to discuss some challenging questions, and to come away with some fresh insights about the future of libraries.

This program is supported by Federal Library Services and Technology Act funds, awarded to the New York State Library by the Federal Institute of Museum and Library Services.
