

Please join ENYSLMA for a relaxing morning of professional development presented by two savvy colleagues. Gail King, librarian at St. Mary's School in Ballston Spa, will book talk fiction titles and then pair them with nonfiction titles to enhance the fiction experience. Deb Byrne, SLMS at Glendaal Elementary in Scotia-Glenville, will showcase digital web tools for book talks. There will be a $7.00 registration fee to attend this event and $9.00 for non-members. Continental breakfast and professional development credit certificate will be provided.
